IMMIGRANT MEASURE

Bill Passes the Senate and Awaits the President's Signature.
SOME OF THE LAW'S PROVISIONS

There Was Strong Opposition to the Conference Report but It Was Adopted by a Vote of 24 to 21—House Passes a Bill to Open Reservoir Sites in Arid Regions of the West.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The immigration bill now goes to the president, the last legislative step having been taken in the senate late yesterday by an agreement to the conference report on the bill. Strong opposition was made to the report, but on the final vote the friends of the measure rallied a small majority, the vote being, yeas, 34; nays, 81. The bill as passed extends the immigration restrictions as follows:
All persons physically capable and over 10 years of age who cannot read and write the English language or some other language, and who are not able to read and write who is over 50 years of age, and is the parent or grandparent of a qualified immigrant over 21 years of age and capable of supporting such parent or grandparent may accompany such immigrant, or such parent or grandparent may be sent for and come to join the family of a child, or grandchild over 21 years of age, similarly qualified, and capable, and a wife or minor child not so able to read and write may accompany or be sent for and come to join the husband or parent similarly qualified and capable.
Aside from these extensions of the present law the bill inaugurates a new system of restricting immigration from border countries and is designed to apply principally to immigration from Canada. The provisions are as follows:
Sec. 4 That it shall be unlawful for any male alien who has not in good faith made his declaration before the proper court of his intention to become a citizen of the United States to be employed on any public works of the United States or to come regularly or habitually into the United States by land or water for the purpose of engaging in any mechanical trade or manual labor, for wages or salary, returning from time to time to a foreign country.
The 5th section makes it unlawful for any person, corporation or company to employ an alien coming into the United States in violation of the above section, and who is designed to apply to vessels or railroads, whose duties require them to pass over the frontier to reach the termini of their runs, shall be exempt from its provisions. Special provisions exempt persons arriving from Cuba during the continuance of the present disorder there. The law takes effect July 1, next.

SCAFFOLD AND ROPE

Sheriff Plummer Arranging For the Jackson and Walling Execution.
WILL BE HANGED TOGETHER.

Friends of the Condemned Men Making Efforts to Enlist the Influence of Lieutenant Governor Worthington in Behalf of a Pardon or Commutation of Sentence—Bradley to Furnish Troops.
COVINGTON, Ky., Feb. 18.—Special Messenger Wolcott, bearing the death warrants of Jackson and Walling, signed by Governor Bradley, arrived in Newport yesterday. He called at the office of Sheriff Jule Plummer, but owing to the absence of that official left the documents of death with Deputy Moore.
Sheriff Plummer is not letting the grass grow under his feet. He has gone to Lexington to secure the scaffold on which Laughlin, who was confined in jail with Jackson and Walling, recently, was hanged.
Judge Helm says that he will not permit either Jackson or Walling to be taken to the Newport jail. He not only considers the place unsafe, but unfit for a human being to be confined. He does not believe in adding additional tortures on the unfortunate men during the few days they have on earth. On the contrary, he would make it as comfortable as the circumstances will permit. He will advise that they be retained in the Covington jail until the day appointed for the execution. Neither does he see any reason for separating the prisoners. He will appoint a death watch, the statutes giving him that power, but he will consult Jailer Bitzer of Newport before naming a person that would be considered responsible.
Sheriff Plummer says that none of the details of the hanging had been arranged as yet. The hanging, of course, will take place on the same scaffold, but he has decided on no important matters further than this. He says, moreover, that he will consult Jackson and Walling in regard to some of the arrangements, as he desires to make matters as pleasant as possible for them under the circumstances.
After Worthington.
The friends of Jackson and Walling are making an effort to enlist the influence of Lieutenant Governor Worthington in behalf of pardons or a commutation of the death sentences. This, so far, has been unsuccessful, the lieutenant governor declining to do anything whatever, either for or against the condemned murderers.
It is known that should Governor Bradley go to the inauguration of President-elect McKinley on March 4, a determined effort will be made to get Worthington to take up the cases. Governor Bradley at present does not intend to attend the inaugural festivities. Governor Bradley says he will furnish troops to preserve order at the execution.

JOHN D. LONG.

President-Elect Says He Will Be Secretary of Navy.
INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 18.—An Indiana man who is an aspirant to a position in the United States navy says that while on a recent visit to Canton, President-

JOHN D. LONG.

John D. Long has been out of public life for several years, having retired in 1888 in order to give his attention to his law practice and his literary work. Governor Long was a Maine boy, who went to Boston early in life, was graduated at Harvard and became a lawyer. Then he got into politics and served four years in the Massachusetts legislature, during three of which he was speaker of the house. He was then lieutenant governor for a year and governor for three years more. Afterward his friends insisted on his running for congress, and he was elected three times. He has published a translation of Virgil's poems and done other literary work of a high order. Governor Long is 58 years old now, but still has a fresh and almost boyish look which tells of a clear conscience and perfect health.
MCKINLEY BETTER.
President-Elect and His Wife Take a Short Outing.
CANTON, O., Feb. 18.—Major McKinley took a half-hour's drive yesterday, Mrs. McKinley accompanying him. The sun was shining brightly, the air was mild and it was an ideal day to be out of doors. The major enjoyed the drive greatly and experienced no ill effects. In fact, he seems to be much exhilarated by the little outing. It is still necessary for him to avoid exertion and to take the best of care of himself, but he is making a most satisfactory recovery from his illness. Dr. Phillips, the attending physician, will not consent that his patient shall take up any of his former routine this week, see any visitors or make the proposed trip to Cleveland before the latter part of the week. William K. McClintock of Chicago, who aspires to be consorted to Rio Janeiro, was among the day's arrivals.
Rudolph De Cordova, an industrial magazine writer of London, knocked at the door, but could not be given audience.

HANNA AND HARMONY.

Believed That Ohio Republican Leaders Have Come to an Agreement.
CINCINNATI, Feb. 18.—Considerable stir in political circles was caused here yesterday by the public declaration of George B. Cox in favor of the appointment of Chairman Hanna as Sherman's successor in the senate. There has been much published about factional difference between old partisans of McKinley and Sherman on the one hand and those of Bushnell and Foraker on the other hand. The latter were said to hold up the appointment of Hanna. As Mr. Cox is generally considered as one of the most prominent leaders of the Bushnell-Foraker element, the positive statement of Mr. Cox is regarded as reflecting an agreement among Republican leaders in Ohio on Chairman Hanna for the senate. Mr. Cox says he is emphatically for Mr. Hanna and harmony.
Hanna's Friends Meet.
CLEVELAND, Feb. 18.—At a meeting of 25 or 30 influential Republicans last night a movement having in view the sending of Chairman Hanna to the United States senate was started. Mr. Hanna knew nothing of the meeting, but those who were present expressed their determination to push the movement vigorously.

Gougar, president of the Indiana Woman's Suffrage association and a member of the bar, will make the oral argument in the supreme court at Indianapolis tomorrow in the celebrated test case in which it is held that under the present law of the state women are entitled to suffrage. Many able jurists declare that the women have a strong case in the array of argument and authorities to be presented. Great interest is felt in the outcome.
AFTER THE GAUGERS.
Removing Too Much Whisky For "Sampling" Purposes.
LEXINGTON, Ky., Feb. 18.—"Removing whisky from bonded warehouses in bottles" is the charge which it is alleged will be made against a number of Kentucky storekeepers and gaugers before the federal grand jury this month. The law allows the withdrawal of one pint for sample, but it is said that some storekeepers have withdrawn quarts and gallons. The penalty is $500, one year's imprisonment and dismissal from the service.
ELEVATOR'S FLIGHT.
It Passes through the Roof of a Hotel and Falls Five Stories.
SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 18.—One of the passenger elevators in the St. James hotel got beyond the control of the conductor yesterday. It went up at full speed, crashed clear through the roof, turned over and fell down the air shaft, a distance of five stories. The elevator conductor and a guest were in the machine at the time. Both are dead.
Plenty of Cotton Orders.
YOUNGSTOWN, O., Feb. 18.—It is announced that the Union Iron and Steel company here will resume the manufacture of cotton ties at once and has orders enough to keep the mill going for several months. No cotton ties have been made at this mill during the year. The same company's 8-inch mill resumed yesterday after an idleness of several months.

NEBRASKA'S FINANCES.

Governor Says the Retiring State Treasurer Needs Investigating.
LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 18.—Governor Holcomb yesterday sent to the legislature a special message asking for the appointment of a committee to investigate the affairs of the state treasurer. He points out that more than a million and a half of state money is still held by the retiring state treasurer, Bartley, and that a half million dollars has been unaccounted for to the new treasurer, Meserve.
Daughters of American Revolution.
CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—At the forthcoming continental congress of Daughters of the American Revolution which meets in Washington tomorrow, Mrs. Henry M. Shepard of this city will submit plans for the erection at Washington of a structure to be known as colonial hall. It is proposed to make the building a central place for national gatherings of Daughters of the American Revolution and to use it as a permanent place of exhibit.
Bermuda Released.
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 18.—The steamer Bermuda, which has been detained here by government embargo because of her filibustering notoriety, was released by Collector Reed yesterday, after Agent John D. Hart and Captain Murphy, the ship's commander, had made affidavit that she would not be used for other than legitimate trading purposes. Clearance papers for the Bermuda's release were received from Washington.

TEXAS STUCK IN THE MUD.

GALVESTON, Feb. 18.—The battleship Texas got stuck hard and fast in the mud in Bolivar roads just after crossing the bar and remained in that condition until late yesterday. It is thought that as soon as she can safely get outside that she will put to sea. Her detention in the roads is still a secret and every effort is being made to guard it.

VICE PRESIDENT-ELECT HOBART.

He Will Resign His Positions in Certain Companies.
NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Vice President-elect Hobart in speaking of his business interests in connection with the vice presidency said: "I will resign the vice presidency of the Jersey Water company, and from offices in other companies with which I have had practically nothing to do in the past six months, and other companies, connection with which might seem inconsistent with the discharge of my duties as president of the senate. I retain the presidency of the Paterson Railway company, the Passaic Water company, and such other purely local companies as seek no legislation at Washington, and whose interests are not affected there in the least."

To Confer on Annexation Questions.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—Among the passengers from Honolulu on the Australia was Attorney General Smith, who will proceed at once to Washington to confer with Minister Hatch on annexation questions. His sudden departure was the outcome of a hurried meeting of the Hawaiian cabinet after the receipt of important letters from Minister Hatch regarding annexation.

STUDIED THE MONEY QUESTION.

Crazy Man Imagines All Money in Elkhart Bank Is His.
ELKHART, Ind., Feb. 18.—Rowland Guisinger, a resident of this city, yesterday went to the Elkhart National bank and demanded money from Cashier Arnold, and threatened to use dynamite if his demands were not complied with. The cashier hailed a passing officer and the man was locked up. He became demented over the money question during the late campaign and for over a week has called at different banks demanding money, claiming that he owns all the wealth that they possess.

Green Footpads.

EDINBURG, Ind., Feb. 18.—As George Wells, a saloonkeeper, was going home he was stopped by two masked footpads who demanded his money. He pulled two revolvers and told them to move down street which they did. It is thought to be home talent, who were aware that Wells always carries from $800 to $1,000 with him, and he is likewise very fond of showing it in public.

Surrendered to the Sheriff.

SWAYSE, Ind., Feb. 18.—James Peters of this place, accused of being implicated in the bribery of jurors at Marion, surrendered to the sheriff, and was released on $1,000 bond. It is alleged that Peters worked the western part of the county with Grief Matthews.

CARLYLE, Ill., Feb. 18.—The legislature at Springfield will be called upon to make a thorough investigation of the public affairs of the late state treasurer, Rufus N. Ramsay. A petition is now being circulated in this city and county for signatures, which will be presented to the lawmakers of Illinois. The men who are back of this movement are prominent citizens of Carlyle and are prepared to push the matter. Disclosure of a startling nature have come out of the examination of the Ramsay bank books. The dead banker had 789 business loans to repay with his institution. His net losses were nearly $75,000 during that time.

Neuralgia of the Heart

Vanquished by Dr. Miles' Remedies.

MR. SIDLEY, of Torrington, Conn., suffered from just such a complication of diseases as the extensive experience and investigations of Dr. Miles have proven, result from impairment of the nervous system. Mr. J. B. Sidley writes Oct. 25, 1895: "My wife was taken sick with neuralgia of the heart, nervous exhaustion and liver trouble. Although attended by two physicians she grew worse, until she was at death's door. I then began giving her Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and she improved so wonderfully from the first that I at once dismissed the physicians. She now eats and sleeps well and does her own household work. We have recommended your remedies to a great many in our city, and every one has been very much benefited by them." LEGISLATIVE COMMENT.

The street railroad question is consuming entirely too much of the legislature's time.

Senator Shively's anti-trust bill has passed the senate and should pass the house. The people are opposed to trusts.

The bill introduced by Representative Nicholson to reduce the legal contract rate from 8 per cent. to 7 per cent. should become a law.

The law granting life certificates to graduates of the state normal should be repealed at once. It is unjust and does the teaching profession in Indiana no good.

Senator Nusbaum's bill to require the manufacturers of proprietary medicines doing business in Indiana to publish the formula of each medicine put on the market is unjust and should not be enacted into law.

The bill prepared under the direction of Secretary Bicknell of the state board of charities for better care and control of dependent, neglected and abandoned children has passed both the senate and the house. The measure is a good one and can prove a great help to unfortunate children if properly carried out.

The reported agreement on an amendment to the Geeting educational bill whereby the non-state schools shall have one representative on the state board of education does not seem wise. By far the better plan would be to reconstitute the board. There are enough members now. What is desired is a board that will not advance a state educational trust which Indiana will have, so long as the three presidents of the state educational institutions dominate the affairs of the board. Such an amendment as proposed should not be agreed to.

Few people in Indiana will believe the charges preferred against Prof. T. J. Charleton of the Reform school for boys. He is too well known and his splendid management of the school is too well known for the charges made by a young man whom the law recognized as a fit subject for a reform school to have much weight.

RECENTLY the REPUBLICAN had occasion to say something relative to the insurance bill prepared by John A. Finch for the insurance committee of the Indianapolis Commercial Club. In a personal letter Mr. Finch takes exception to the statement that he is retained as attorney for large "stock fire insurance companies and life insurance companies of large capital" and therefore prejudiced against mutual companies. He says he is not so employed and the REPUBLICAN gives him the benefit of his own statement. The bill however, has been rewritten and made much better than the original, though not satisfactory to many important interests.

It has been decided to celebrate in an international way the five hundredth birthday of Gutenberg in the year 1900. At a meeting of the preliminary committee, held recently, it was decided that the Gutenberg celebration should begin in his birthplace, Mayence, on the twenty-fourth of June. The representatives of the book trade at Leipzig have decided to observe the occasion in that literary center also, but here the festivities will largely of an academic character, under the auspices of the universities. A Gutenberg society has been organized with headquarters at Mayence, which will provide for the erection of a Gutenberg museum and the publication of works on this father of the printing art, and also on the history of this art itself. Prominent men throughout the continent have promised to cooperate in making the matter a success.

UNCLE SAM'S AUCTION SALE.

Annual Disposal of the Accumulations of the Dead Letter Office.

One of the queerest "institutions" of the national capital is the annual clearance sale of the dead letter office, in which a vast accumulation of articles gone astray in the mails is sold to the highest bidder. The auction house where it is held is continually crowded with excited men, women and children, and beside it the bargain counters during the holidays are as havens of rest, for when Uncle Sam goes into the junk-shop business great things are expected. As in the church fair raffle, you pay a small amount of money and trust to luck to get back more than its value. The articles, previously listed in a wholesale sort of way, are tied up in bundles of from three to a half dozen and "auctioned" for what they will bring, the average bids ranging between 10 cents and a dollar.

Nobody is permitted to examine the goods before purchasing, and no money is refunded to the dissatisfied. Everybody hopes to pull a genuine plum from the pie in the shape of a diamond ring, a silk dress pattern or a silver teapot, and although comparative blanks are the rule, there is always the possibility of a prize. For example, the auctioneer holds up one of these odd shaped bundles, listed "pictures, underwear, music, cigars." Going—going—gone—for 90 cents to a dapper young gentleman who was caught by the word "cigar." He opens it on the spot—an unwise thing to do if one objects to good natured ridicule—and this is what he finds: Six cigars, broken into bits with so strong an odor that one wonders how a sledge hammer could have done it; underwear—a female 10 cent "jersey;" pictures—a collection of newspaper cuts designed for amusement of some small child. The lot would be dear at a quarter and is of no use to the buyer.

In the dead letter office proper—that charnel house which swallows nearly half a million missives every month—it is positively harrowing. More than 40 bushels of photographs have accumulated there, awaiting the annual cremation. There are tresses of hair enough to stuff a dozen mattresses, grandmothers' silver locks and babies' golden curls, many no doubt cut from dead brows, and small sums of money which poor workmen send home to feed their wives and little ones, and servant girls save from their scanty wages for needy parents—gone to Uncle Sam's rich purse, not because the United States wants it, but because the senders' writing or orthography was beyond mortal ken. It is hard to realize that in this land of schools, at the close of the nineteenth century, there are so many people so ignorant or so careless as to send several millions of letters a year without stamps or addresses or with addresses which no man can make out. People seem to be so intent on what goes into the letters that they forget all about the superscription. It is estimated that $4,500,000 in drafts and $80,000,000 in cash is received every year through dead letters.—Indianapolis Journal.

COST OF A TRAIN.

The Expense and Profits of Travel on English Railway Lines.

How many people who travel in trains ever think of the cost of running them? It will probably surprise most people who have traveled from London to Edinburgh to know that every mile of the journey costs the railway company over half a crown. The cost of the whole journey from the English to the Scotch capital is £50.

The average cost of running a train in England is 2s. 7d. per mile, so that, the fare being reckoned at 1d. per mile, a train with less than 31 passengers for each mile is run at a loss. There are few trains, however, that do not carry more than this number of passengers, and many of them carry the number doubled many times over. It is necessary frequently to run trains that do not pay—usually in thinly inhabited country districts—but for every train run at a loss probably 100 are run at an enormous profit.

Take, for instance, the journey from London to Edinburgh, which costs the railway company £50. The average number of "through" passengers in these trains is probably 60, in which case the total fares would be nearly £100—a clear gain of nearly £50. When it is remembered that these trains run several times a day, and every day in the year, it will be understood what an enormous revenue a single line yields in the course of 12 months. Supposing the average number of passengers to be 60, the midnight train from London to Edinburgh yields over £20,000 for dividend in a year!

The longest railway journey in the United Kingdom would probably be from Penzance, in Cornwall, to Thurso, in the north of Scotland, a distance of over 1,000 miles. A train running between these two places would exhaust an ordinary clerk's salary for a whole year, the cost being no less than £138.—London Tit-Bits.

To Grow Teeth.

A Moscow dentist has solved the problem of supplying the human mouth with false teeth which will grow into the gums as firmly as natural ones. Dr. Zamenky has performed several successful operations on dogs as well as human beings. The teeth are made of gutta percha, porcelain or metal, as the case may be.

At the root of the false tooth holes are made. Holes are also made upward into the jaw. The tooth is then placed in the cavity. In a short time a soft, granulated growth finds its way from the patient's jaw into the holes in the tooth. This growth gradually hardens and holds the tooth in position.

It is stated that it does not matter whether the cavity in which the tooth is to be placed is one from which a natural tooth has been recently drawn or whether it has been healed for some years.—Moscow Letter.

The Sleep of Horses.

When the horse sleeps, it is said that one ear is directed forward, why is not known. A writer in The English Mechanic thinks this is to guard against danger, being a survival of their originally wild habits. He says: "Watch a horse asleep through the window of his stable and make a faint noise to the front. That ear will be all attention, and probably the other will fly round sharply to assist. Now let him go to sleep again and make the same noise to the left. The forward ear still will keep guard, with possibly a lightning flick round, only to resume its former position."

POLITICAL MEASURES

House Advances Three Republican Measures to Third Reading.

IMPORTANT MEASURES PASSED.

Dependent Orphans' Home and Intermediate Prison Bills Now Awaiting the Governor's Signature—Senate Passes an Antitrust Bill—House Passes the Bill Changing Time of Paying Taxes.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 18.—Some very important measures were disposed of in the legislature Wednesday. The house passed the dependent orphans' home bill and the intermediate prison bill. They now go to the governor for signature.

The senate acted favorably upon the Shively antitrust bill and later in the day passed the Gilbert antitrust bill which is not nearly so drastic and does not interfere with price agreements or the "equality plan" as it is known.

The Republicans in the house had all their members in their seats and spent nearly the whole day in advancing the following political measures to third reading: The metropolitan police bill, the bill repealing the apportionment act of 1885, the election bill, the bill restoring the appointment of the state-house engineer to the governor, the prison management bill and the bill giving the work of polltacking the recognition of the law. It also passed the following bills: One of the attorney general's bills seeking to amend the Vandalia charter, a bill changing the time of paying taxes and the partition fence bill. The 7 per cent usury bill was taken up on second reading, and amended so as to make the acceptance of brokerage unlawful by the lender, which was adopted after a long discussion and the bill engrossed.

Old Apportionment Law.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 18.—There was two reports on the repeal of the 1885 apportionment law. The minority report by the Democrats was laid on the table. Mr. East secured the floor before the question on the adoption of the majority report could be put and made an argument against the proposed amendments. He declared that the substitution of the pencil for the stamp would open the way to "constant, continuous fraud." He closed by moving that the majority report be laid on the table, but the 52 Republicans supported the report and the bill. In explaining his vote Mr. Eichhorn declared that the Republicans had no right to tamper with the election law, as they had no part in its making, and no part in its enforcement.

Metropolitan Police Bill.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 18.—When the metropolitan police bill was taken up in the house Wednesday on second reading on motion to advance it to third, Mr. Eichhorn objected and said he desired an opportunity to amend the bill regarding expenditures authorized by it, but the majority refused to listen and advanced the bill on a party vote.

Dependent Children.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 18.—The dependent children and orphans' home bill which passed the house Wednesday authorizes county commissioners to establish homes or to contract with charitable association for the establishment of homes and the care of dependent children. It gives such associations full power over the children after they have secured possession of them through court procedure.

A GOOD LETTER

From the Clerk of the Circuit Court.

FERNANDINA, Fla. Feb. 28, 1896
Mr. J. GEORGE SERRER, Druggist, City.
Dear George.—Please send for a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I would not feel easy if I knew there was none of this valuable Remedy in the house. I have given it a fair test and consider it one of the very best remedies for croup that I have ever found. One dose has always been sufficient although I use it freely. Any cold my children contract yields very readily to this medicine. I can conscientiously recommend it for croup and colds in children.

Yours Respectfully, Geo. E. WOLFE.

Westport Citizens Excited Over the Result of a Gas Well There.

A company of citizens was organized at Westport some time ago and have put down a gas well. Yesterday at a d. p. h. of nearly a thousand feet a small flow of gas was struck. Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain no Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Want all Pensioned.

A G. A. R. Post at English, Crawford county, at a recent meeting adopted a resolution asking congress to abolish all pension boards, and to pass an act allowing all soldiers $30 per month and all soldiers' widows $20 per month. The remarkable resolution is as follows: Resolved, that every Union soldier who served in the war as much as ninety days shall be placed on the pension rolls of the United States at the rate of $30 per month, and the widows of soldiers at $20, and that all pension examiners and medical boards be abolished.

The fire scene in "The Heart of Chicago" which comes to the Opera House next Friday night is said to be the most complete thing of the kind thus far accomplished. It is a representation of a section of the great Chicago fire the localities chosen being the vicinity of State and Madison streets. Old timers in Chicago will readily recognize the buildings which have been reproduced from photographs. Pumping fire engines, the hoarse cries of the excited throngs, rushing cabs, great streams of leaping flames, flying debris and occasional explosions serve to make his stage counterpart a good imitation. Seventy-five people are on the stage during this scene.

McLean's Great Newspaper. Exception, there is no greater or more successful publisher than Mr. John R. McLean.

The Enquirer have been maintained, and its circulation largely increased each year; hard times and cheaper journals failing to arrest its onward march and high appreciation of the public for its true worth and merit.

The Weekly Enquirer at beginning of the campaign year was offered at 50 cents a year, and its circulation increased by the addition of over 200,000 new subscribers; the most substantial and coveted testimonial a publisher could desire.

When asked for the secret of such success, Mr. McLean frankly answers: The Enquirer has no opinions to force upon its patrons, it simply prints the facts and tells the truth that the reader may form his own opinions. By maintaining the price of the paper, more news and greater variety can be furnished, and every class of business interests catered to, which a cheaper journal cannot afford.

The very liberal support given the Enquirer by the public at large, makes incumbent upon the management to serve it faithfully with zeal and enterprise in minor matters as well as those of greater magnitude.

THE ISLE OF TERROR.

SUCH IS USHANT, WHERE THE DRUMMOND CASTLE WENT DOWN.

Though the Place has a Bad Name, the People Are Honest and Generous—Noted Events of Which History Tells Have Happened in Its Vicinity.

Ushant, the island upon whose outlying reefs the steamer Drummond Castle ran, sinking three minutes after leaving and carrying down every soul on board, except three, lies off the north-west extremity of France and forms the corner around which vessels from the south turn into the English channel after crossing the bay of Biscay. "Ushant" is the Anglicized form of "Ouessant," the French name. Pliny calls the island "Uxantia," and the Britons know it as "Enez Heussa," which means "The Isle of Terror." It well deserves the Celtic name.

The inhabitants of Ushant are a hardy race, the men all fishermen and seamen, the women all tillers of the rocky soil. The latter on high days and holidays still often display their ancient costume, with its flat coif, which strikingly recalls the feminine headgear of southern Italy, and whence their dark hair streams in freedom below their waists. Within the last quarter of a century a breed of ponies still roamed in semi-wilderness over a large part of the island, and for centuries the inhabitants themselves were looked upon as savages. Debarred, often for long weeks at a time, from any intercourse with the mainland, they certainly led very primitive lives. But at the same time they preserved the primitive virtues, and honesty and hospitality have ever been articles of faith among them.

Losing year by year, with unfeigned regularity, a score or two of their own kith and kindred in the treacherous waters around their isle, their sympathies have always been with those whom shipwreck has imperiled. Several of the Breton islands have notoriously harbored communities of wreckers, but the people of Ushant have again and again distinguished themselves by their efforts to save distressed vessels or their crews.

Whenever one of the islanders is lost at sea, a touching ceremony, called "the proela" is performed. The relatives and friends of the deceased carry to his house a small wooden cross, over which the clergy repeat the prayers for the dead, as if this symbol were the corpse itself. Then the cross bearer, who, whenever practicable, is the godfather of the defunct (this again a touching instance of symbolism), incloses it in a coffin, and, followed by all the mourners, deposits it at the foot of a statue of St. Pol Aurelien, the patron of the isle. A few years ago a hundred or so of these coffins could be seen assembled around the statue.

Ushant is known to history. As early as 1389 an English expedition landed on the island and ravaged it with fire and sword. Then, in 1778, its waters witnessed the much criticized naval engagement between Keppel and d'Orvilliers, which English histories usually describe as a drawn battle, whereas the French invariably claim it as a decisive victory. Finally, 16 years later, Ushant saw the "glorious first of June," when Lord Howe's fleet shattered the French ships of war commanded by Villaret-Joyeuse, but at the same time signally failed to prevent the large fleet of French merchantmen, on whose arrival France depended for means to prosecute the war, from getting safely into the port of Brest.

That Ushant is, in Breton estimation, predestined to deeds of blood and death is shown by a strange rhymed proverb, which Chateaubriand quotes in his "Memoirs From Beyond the Grave," and which may be Englished thus: "He who sees Belle Isle doth see his isle; He who sees Groix doth see his joy, but gaze on Ushant's flood, you see your blood."

Of the wild scenery around Ushant there has probably never been any better description than that given by Chateaubriand. The island is the largest and from the mainland the most distant, of those forming the archipelago to which it gives its name. Molene, the next in size, trades largely in its own soil, which on account of certain chemical properties is sought after by Breton agriculturists. Then, in addition to scores of little islets, some of them mere rocks and reefs, there is Quemenec, which is about a quarter the size of Ushant, while near to the mainland is Beniquet, or the Blessed Isle, so called on account of its proximity to the Breton shore and the refuge it offers amid the most dangerous of all the adjacent reefs, that of Les Pierres Noires.

Many a stout ship and many a frail fishing boat have been shattered among these reefs, where the waters ever seethe and roar, even on calm summer days. But winter is the time to see Ushant and its neighboring isles, all bare and rugged, rising from amid the gale-lashed waves. No rock bound coast can offer a more impressive spectacle than that which the ocean then presents as it leaps in its dread, blind might around The Isle of Terror.—Westminster Gazette.

Wants It This Time. "Hand over and be quick about it," said the "hold up" as he put a revolver to the head of the belated man.

"But you held me up last week and didn't get anything," remonstrated the victim.

"Well, hand over what I didn't get then!"—Detroit Free Press.

A BROKEN FRIENDSHIP.

It Was Terminated by a Bullet In a Frontier Town.

It was in the early days of a town in southwestern Kansas. The deadly "45" was the most respected law of the place, and daily and nightly, in the half dozen saloons which the embryo city supported, were congregated as rough a set of men as could be found in any town of the size west of the Mississippi, spending their time in gambling and carousing.

Monarch of all the rooves was Ed Prather. He had eight months in the handle of his trusty 45, signifying that by his hand eight human beings had been sent to their long home. Prather's bosom friend was Billy Wells. He, too, was a "bad man" in the western acceptance of the term. Damon and Pythias were not more fraternal than these two desperadoes. When one was seen, the other was always near. If one got into trouble, the other was always on hand to assist him.

The tragic end of this friendship came one summer morning. Prather had just successfully "stood off" a sheriff and his posse, and the crowd of roughs was congregated in his saloon, congratulating him, drinking to his health and celebrating the occasion by filling themselves up with what is known in western vernacular as "40 rod," preparatory to terrorizing the town. Suddenly Prather drew his revolver from the scabbard, and saying, "Boys, watch me put a hole through Billy's hat," fired.

There was a yell of agony, and Wells fell to the floor wounded to the death.

"My God, have I killed him?" were Prather's first words. Then, throwing down his revolver, he sprang to the side of the wounded man, just as the last quiver came over the prostrate form and the soul went to render its account.

For the first time in years a solitary tear coursed down over the hardened features of the man whose hands were newly stained with the blood of a fellow creature, but, ashamed of this momentary evidence of emotion, he hastily brushed away the tear, and turning to the bar called, "Drinks for the crowd." And the carousal went on.

This was one more chapter added to the history of frontier life.—Detroit Free Press.

AN INDIGNANT FISH.

One Buggal Deprived of Its Prey by the Reckless Interference of Another.

While the buggal, known also as the canner, is not altogether a bottom feeding fish, still it feeds mostly on the bottom, taking whatever it can find there, nipping the head off a clam when it gets a chance, and not neglecting the worms of many kinds which find a home there.

There were two buggals in a tank at the aquarium. One day a nereis showed its head above the sand and gravel on the bottom of the tank alongside a little pebble. The nereis is a marine worm that lives at the bottom. This particular nereis might have been three inches in length by an eighth of an inch in diameter. One of the buggals saw it as soon as it lifted its head above the bottom, and he began to make for it at once, but not precipitately. In fact, he did not seem to notice the nereis at all. He just loitered about in the water, and it just happened apparently that his general movement carried him in that direction.

The nereis was probably looking for food. Gradually it raised its head until it was half an inch above the sand. The buggal, which had started a foot or more away, was then within six inches of it. Then the other buggal saw the nereis, and this buggal made a rush for it. There was nothing for the first one to do now but to make a rush for it too. The two buggals met head on with their noses right over the pebble alongside which the nereis had raised its head, but the nereis had disappeared.

The force of the collision threw the first buggal off his balance. For a moment he lay in the water at an angle of 45 degrees, but he righted himself quickly and instantly started for buggal No. 2, and chased him round and round the tank and finally up into a corner, where he held him for a minute, and then he swam solemnly away, indignant no doubt that the reckless interference of the other had cost him the prey he had so carefully planned to take.—New York Sun.

Two Laymen Have Been Popes.

It may be well to remark that the canon law does not prescribe that the pope must be a cardinal, or even a cleric. Nevertheless since the election of Urban VI in 1378 the successful candidates have belonged to the members of the Sacred college, although as late as 1758 a noncardinal was voted for several times. At least two laymen—John XIX (1024) and Adrian V (1276)—have occupied the papal throne, and there is today nothing to prevent laymen from being created cardinals, although they are not entitled to vote in the conclave unless they can produce a special permit from the late pope. Up to the meeting of the conclave of 1833 Cardinal Albani had never taken orders, and there is still some doubt as to whether he did so then.—William R. Thayer in Century.

A Public Purifier.

"My friend," said the solemn man, "have you ever done ought to make the community in which you live the better for your living in it?" "I have done much, sir," replied the other humbly, "to purify the homes of my fellow beings."

"Ah," continued the solemn man, with a pleased air, "you distribute tracts?" "No, I clean carpets."—London Tit Bits.

The Daily AND Weekly REPUBLICAN

Have no Equal for Advertising in Seymour or Jackson County.

How to Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common water glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates a diseased condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilner's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in relieving pain in back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and soiled bed and passing it off or bad effects following so of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists price fifty cents and one dollar. For a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail, mention the Seymour Republican, and send your full post-office address to Dr. Kilner & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee its genuineness.

A GOOD LETTER

From the Clerk of the Circuit Court.

FERNANDINA, Fla., Feb. 28, 1896.
Mr. J. GEORGE SCHREER, Druggist, City.

Dear George.—Please send for a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I would not feel easy if I knew there was none of this valuable Remedy in the house. I have given it a fair test and consider it one of the very best remedies for croup that I have ever found. One dose has always been sufficient although I use it freely. Any cold my children contract yields very readily to this medicine. I can conscientiously recommend it for croup and colds in children.

Yours Respectfully, Geo. E. Wolfe.

A company of citizens was organized at Westport some time ago and have put down a gas well. Yesterday at a depth of nearly a thousand feet a small flow of gas was struck. Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by druggists, price 75c. per bottle.

Want all Pensioned.

A G. A. R. Post at English, Crawford county, at a recent meeting adopted a resolution asking congress to abolish all pension boards, and to pass an act allowing all soldiers $30 per month and all soldiers' widows $20 per month. The remarkable resolution is as follows: Resolved, that every Union soldier who served in the war as much as ninety days shall be placed on the pension rolls of the United States at the rate of $30 per month, and the widows of soldiers at $20, and that all pension examiners and medical boards be abolished.

The Fact That Doctors

Frequently advise change of air and climate to those suffering from catarrh is proof that catarrh is a local and climatic disease. Therefore, unless you can leave home and business, you should use Ely's Cream Balm. Applied directly to the seat of the disease, it effects instant relief and a satisfactory cure after short continuance. No mercury nor injurious drug is contained in the Balm.

Peach Buds All Right.

Cure For Headache.

As a remedy for all forms of Headache Electric Bitters has proved to be the very best. It effects a permanent cure and the most dreaded habitual sick headaches yield to its influence. We urge all who are afflicted to procure a bottle, and give this remedy a fair trial. In cases of habitual constipation Electric Bitters cures by giving the needed tone to the bowels, and few cases long resist the use of this medicine. Try it once. Fifty cents and $1.00 at W. F. Peter, successor to J. H. Andrews & Co's, drug store.

The fire scene in "The Heart of Chicago" which comes to the Opera House next Friday night is said to be the most complete thing of the kind thus far accomplished. It is a representation of a section of the great Chicago fire the localities chosen being the vicinity of State and Madison streets. Old timers in Chicago will readily recognize the buildings which have been reproduced from photographs. Pumping fire engines, the hoarse cries of the excited throngs, rushing cabs, great streams of leaping flames, flying debris and occasional explosions, serve to make his stage a faithful and a goal imitation. Seventy-five people are on the stage during this scene.

A tired stomach is very much like a sprained ankle. If you suffer from any of the symptoms of dyspepsia, your stomach is tired. It needs a crutch. We must relieve it of all work for a time, or until it is restored to its natural strength. To do this successfully, we must use a food which is already digested outside of the body, and which will aid the digestion of other foods that may be taken with it. Such a product is the Shaker Digestive Cordial. The Shakers have utilized the digestive principles present in plants for the manufacture of this article, and its success has been truly phenomenal. You can try it for the nominal sum of 10 cents, as sample bottles are sold by all druggists at this price.
